Brooke Peterson, AICP, Chapter President

It is my pleasure to present you with this inaugural issue of the APA California Annual Report, a new publication that will be distributed to APA California members to highlight events and activities that occurred during the past year in the California Chapter.

I am excited to begin my term as the President and look forward to serving you in 2013 and 2014. Before we look forward, I would like to note a few accomplishments we achieved this year that highlight our commitment to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the organization's operations. In 2012, the Board of Directors made two significant changes to the organization's procedures that are intended to strengthen and improve operational processes and ultimately service to our members. Here is a brief summary of these accomplishments:

In January the Board of Directors approved the addition of a new elected Vice President position, Vice President of Membership, and an update to the APA California Bylaws was adopted at its October Board meeting to amend the composition of the Board of Directors to include the Vice President of Membership and defined the role and responsibility of the newly created position. The duties of the new Vice President of Membership shall be to:

- Develop programs to influence membership retention and expansion.
- Serve as a liaison to other strategic professional organizations.
- Work with sections to maintain and increase membership of sections.
- Develop marketing programs.
- Identify new self-funding member benefits and services.
- Coordinate activities of the Membership Inclusionary Director, University Liaison, and the Young Planners Coordinator;
- Assist the Vice President of Administration in preparation of the Annual Report.
- Coordinate with National APA on membership initiatives and other policy changes that affect membership.
- Perform any other duties assigned by the Chapter Board of Directors.

In June the Board of Directors adopted a Standard Contracting Protocol for the purposes of establishing, reviewing, evaluating, and as applicable, re-bidding contracts. This protocol is intended to facilitate excellent performance and ensure that contractors are providing the highest quality and most cost-effective services to the organization and its members. All contracts will now be reviewed on a regular basis according to a standardized priority schedule. In addition, outside of the contract review process, APA California will now conduct an annual member satisfaction survey to gather input from the membership regarding the quality of services and level of benefit the organization is providing. Results from the survey will be considered in the contract review evaluation as applicable.

The Board of Directors held its Annual Board Retreat in San Diego on January 11-12 where it focused on identifying strategic initiatives for the next two years and designating an action plan to accomplish those initiatives. As we head into 2013, our top initiatives will be to :

- Increase the transparency of APA California's administration so that members better understand what the Board and staff are doing to maximize the effectiveness of the organization and best serve members.
- Focus on key initiatives while implementing new strategies to improve the efficiency and quality of APA California operations, programs, and services.
- Develop new communication opportunities between the Chapter and Sections, and Chapter, Sections, and members.

Our core purpose in adopting these initiatives is to maximize the quality of services and value of membership to you, our members. We recognize that you look to APA California to serve as a clearinghouse for professional development opportunities and to communicate and provide relevant information regarding what is happening within APA, across the planning profession, in our communities, and beyond. You are why the organization exists and we strive to reflect that in all we do. We hope you will stay engaged in what is happening throughout the coming year and invite you to partner with us as we endeavor to advance the value and quality of planning in California and our local communities.

The annual elections were held this fall and APA California is pleased to welcome its newest officers to the Board:

- Kurt Christensen, Vice President for Conferences
- David Snow, Vice President for Policy and Legislation
- Betsy McCullough, Vice President for Professional Development
- Marc Yeber, Planning Commissioner Representative.

This election cycle, we were fortunate to have a competitive and talented slate of candidates. APA California depends heavily on its volunteer leaders and we are grateful for those who are so giving of their time and so deeply committed to advancing our planning profession.

Kevin Keller, AICP, Chapter President 2011-12

Looking back over the past two years, I wanted to list some of the highlights of APA California's accomplishments and thank our members for their incredible service, volunteerism, and passion for the profession.

National APA Representation

As a member of the Chapter Presidents Council, I represented APA California at the two annual APA National Board meetings in 2011, and 2012. During this time, the Chapter President's Council voted to endorse a consolidated elections cycle and ballot in which it would be possible to vote concurrently for national and state board posts to streamline the election process in future years. California also voted in support of increased online professional development opportunities and a phased transition from CD-ROM resources to online streamed content.

State Conferences

APA California hosted two excellent state conferences in 2011 and 2012. Our 2011 Santa Barbara conference re-invigorated our conference format with smartphone apps and online session submittals that were resounding successes. Our 2012 Rancho Mirage conference continued this excellence and delivered outstanding content, networking, and professional development opportunities, which is further outlined in this report. We look forward to seeing you in Visalia for our 2013 Conference.

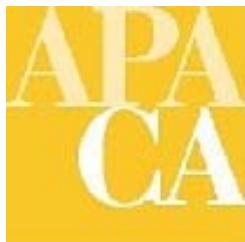

National Conference

In 2012, APA California took center stage and hosted the National APA Conference. Nearly 5000 land use professionals from around the country visited Los Angeles in April to participate in the conference. The City last hosted the event in 1986, and there was much to experience from more than 25 years of challenge and progress since then. The conference provided a forum to showcase much of the work California has taken to move towards revitalizing neighborhoods and urban centers, including showcasing the significant re-investment and transformation of Los Angeles' downtown area. The conference was an overwhelming success and showcased the excellence in planning happening throughout the Golden State. APA's Conference Host Committee volunteers organized excellent sessions, mobile workshops, and orientation tours that set a new bar for future National Conferences.

Weathering the Economic Storm

As an organization, APA California has emerged in a stronger financial position after these past two years. The effects of the economic downturn affected our organization, with a 59% drop in revenue from 2008 to 2012. The Executive Board carefully reduced spending by 39%, and launched membership retention efforts. A dues increase of $20, the first in seven years, was also adopted by the Board to continue to fund core services. Overall, chapter membership has increased from 5,154 members in mid-2012 when these actions were approved by the board. As of January 1, 2013, membership has continued to grow to over 5,400 members. APA California has a solid foundation for future organizational excellence. Our greatest assets continue to be our members, our volunteer spirit, and an unwavering drive to position our organization to be a leader in land use.

Reimagine L.A.—APA 2012 National Planning Conference

The American Planning Association's National Conference was hosted by the APA California Chapter's Los Angeles Section (APA LA), and was held April 14 through April 17, 2012 at the Los Angeles Convention Center and the J.W. Marriott at LA Live.

The National Conference had not been hosted by Los Angeles since 1986. Clearly Los Angeles and the surrounding area have gone through a metamorphosis over the last 26 years. The Los Angeles Chapter was naturally very excited to have the opportunity to share their City with planning professionals from across the country the planning and development achievements throughout the region and the resources they have to offer.

In addition to a terrific professional conference, the Los Angeles Chapter was able to showcase the region through more than 50 Mobile Workshops, including highlighting smart planning initiatives throughout various Los Angeles communities via walking tours, bicycling tours, public transportation.....and even a few boats!

APA LA was also able to showcase various Los Angeles neighborhoods on two Orientation Tours: one traveled down the 'Great Boulevards' of the City with a break at the Pacific Ocean and another explore the "Hills and Valleys" with a break at the Griffith Observatory. A series of Local Host Committee Events were held to show off the nightlife Los Angeles is known for. These networking events included a Special Film Night showing of Paramount's Classic "Chinatown" with the LA Conservancy at the historic Orpheum Theater, a special "Opening Night" celebration at Union Station, a Young Planner's Group/Student Reception at 7th Street's Seven Grand, the Museum of Neon Arts' Neon Bus Tours, and an evening at the Disney Concert Hall featuring the works of Schubert.

Administration

Virginia Viado, Vice President

The Vice President for Administration is responsible for maintaining the general funds and accounts of the Chapter. This is done mainly with the assistance of the management firm comprised of APA California administrative staff and contractors, including Stefan/George Associates, ATEGO Resources, New Horizon and other support contract staff. The Vice President for Administration also functions as Chairperson of the Chapter's awards program and coordinates the Chapter's membership activities, regularly evaluates and updates the Chapter Financial Policies, conducts long range forecasting and programming in cooperation with the management firm, coordinates and oversees the distribution of membership subvention funds and applicable reporting procedures of the Chapter's local Sections, and coordinates financial and administrative activities with the Chapter's Director of Administration.

2012 Budget

The Board of Directors adopted a draft budget at its meeting held during the 2011 APA California Chapter Conference in Santa Barbara, with amendments adopted in January 2012 during the Board's annual retreat held in Sacramento. A working budget of $496,770 was adopted, with anticipated income of $445,430 coming from sources including 2011 Conference profits, membership dues from National APA and other revenue sources such as AICP publications and advertisements. Shortage in revenue has prompted the Board to withdraw funds from its Reserves Account to maintain operations. Actual budget breakdown for 2012 is shown below:

Chapter operating expenses include distribution of membership dues to each of the eight local Sections, payments to administrative staff, Board meetings and retreats, and general office-related expenses. Board portfolio expenses include travel and meeting-related expenses, as well operating expenses for member service programs managed under each VP. VP Policy & Legislation programs include Legislative Review and Lobbying; VP Public Information program includes Website maintenance and CalPlanner production; VP Administration programs include State Awards and Membership/Marketing.

The Board of Directors met during the 2012 Conference in Rancho Mirage and adopted a draft working budget of $522,556, with anticipated income from membership dues, 2012 Conference profits, and other sources totaling approximately $500,752 .

Administration—Programs

Membership Inclusion: Co-Directors: Connie Galambos-Malloy (North) and Anna Vidal (South)

The 2012 Diversity Summit held at the State Conference provided relevant data, case studies, and resources for California planners on how to translate the Census 2010 data into everyday planning projects, programs, and policies. The Summit featured APA National President Mitchell Silver as the opening speaker, setting the national demographic context and the keynote speaker was by Dr. Leobardo Estrada, PhD, Associate Professor of Urban Planning at the UCLA School of Public Affairs, Department of Urban Planning. The Summit focused on California's unique planning and policy landscape. Membership Inclusion Directors from across the state have been engaging in monthly conference calls to share best practices from their respective sections, and collaborated on planning the 2012 Diversity Summit.

Young Planners Group (YPG): Coordinator: Ted Holzem

In 2007, APA National appointed the Young Planners Group Task Force (YPG), in order to address the growing needs of young planners within the APA as well as provide a forum for young planners to be a resource to the organization. The YPG has defined young planners as planning professionals under the age of 35. There is a need to reach out to the next generation of planners as a service to these members, in order to sustain the organization, to provide services to a changing professional demographic, and to cultivate the next generation of leaders. APA California also recognized this as a resource and instituted a YPG at the State level, appointing a Statewide Coordinator to work on YPG programs for the California Chapter, as well as coordinate with the local Sections to assist with events and programs at the local level.

State Awards Program: Co-Directors: Andrea Ouse, AICP (North) and Danny Castro (South)

The APA California Awards Program encourages quality in planning and increases the public's awareness of the planning profession by recognizing outstanding achievement in the planning field. The program honors innovative plans and projects, distinguished APA members, lay contributors to planning and achievements of local APA California Sections. Awards are presented annually at the APA California Conference in two categories: Awards of Excellence and Awards of Merit. Additionally, Scholastic Awards are given to students by the California Planning Foundation, a nonprofit, tax-deductible arm of APA California, and Historic Planning Landmark Awards are given to historical projects.

Membership and Marketing: Coordinator: Derek Hull, AICP

The Membership and Marketing Director develops programs to influence membership retention and expansion, coordinates with National APA on membership initiatives, works with local Sections to increase membership of underrepresented groups, develops marketing programs and identifies new self-funding member benefits and services.

Conferences

Janna Minsk, AICP, Vice President

The VP of Conferences is responsible for coordinating the annual State conference and ensuring collaboration with the conference contractors, conference host committee and State Board. The goal is provide the membership with a conference which includes sessions, mobile workshops and topical keynotes which showcase current planning trends, networking opportunities and continuing maintenance credits for our AICP members. The annual conference is also APA California and the eight Sections main sources of revenue; therefore growing conference sponsorships and attendance is always a goal.

The program content of our conferences has evolved over time in response to membership suggestions. We listened and recently added to the conference a student free day with sessions geared towards student planners with a student scholarship awards luncheon and student poster display judged by the APA Board. The conference also holds a Diversity Summit. To fulfill membership session expectations, the Board adopted the programming of a series of mandatory sessions including: APA Chapter President Leadership reception, legislative update, planning commission sessions, AICP exam prep, CPF hosted sessions, CPR hosted sessions and a PEN sponsored session. These mandatory sessions provide various elected or appointed State Board members and affiliated groups (CPF, CPR and PEN) visibility at the conference. The selection of sessions is a collaborative effort between the conference host committee (CHC) and State, with the CHC selected 20% of the regular conference sessions.

APA California recently adopted “sustainability” principals for conferences which have been instituted beginning last year with a smaller sized and content print program, introduction of the mobile app, permitting conference attendees to purchase a “carbon offset”, on line submittal of sessions and coordinating with conference facilities to use locally grown food for meals served and other facility related sustainability practices.

Upcoming Conference locations:

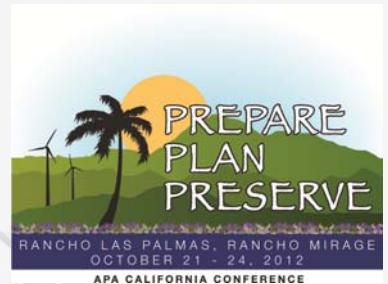

- 2013 Hosted by the Central Section, October 6-9 Visalia Marriott and Visalia Convention Center
- 2014 Hosted by the Orange Section, September 13-16, Disneyland Hotel
- 2015 Hosted by the Northern Section
- 2016 Hosted by the Los Angeles Section

2012 Conference - Rancho Mirage

Conference Co-Chairs Les Johnson
and Craig Ewing

"Prepare, Plan, Preserve" was the theme of the 2012 APA California Conference hosted by the Inland Empire Section, October 21-24, 2012 at Rancho Las Palmas (Rancho Mirage, CA).

Once again, sessions and mobile workshops received pre-approved continuing maintenance credit to assist members with meeting the AICP continuing maintenance requirements. This was the first year, the conference offered MCLE credits for 12 sessions. Innovations continued such as the mobile App and smaller dimensioned print program; conference sponsorships also exceeded projections. The CPF auction brought in over $31,000 to be used for student scholarships.

APA National President,
Mitchell Silver, AICP

Richard J. Jackson

2013 Conference - Visalia

"Planning Under The Sun" is the theme of the 2013 APA California Conference hosted by the Central Section, October 6-9, 2013 at the Visalia Marriott and Visalia Convention Center. Co chairs of the 2013 event are Fred Brusuelas and Ben Kimball. The on-line submittal of "Call for Presentations" is open. The 2013 Conference Host Committee is excited to host the annual conference and show case the central valley to planners.

Elected and Appointed Officials

Marc Yeber, Planning Commission Representative

It goes without stating, commission and board members are one of the vital links to community conservation and development as well as planning and related land-uses processes. These men and women from around the state are the voice to their respective communities making decisions that ultimately shape their residential neighborhoods and business districts. That is why the California Chapter of the American Planning Association continues to develop resources and programs specifically designed to meet the needs of commission and board members. From commission related news and events to educational sessions and materials, the Chapter has made reaching out to these members a priority. For instance, at the recent California APA Conference, commission and board members participated in sessions and activities designed to engage and inform. Also a resource booth was available to offer a broad range of materials and information not only from the California Chapter, but also the National APA.

However our work is far from complete. Our primary objective to provide programming to commission and board members is twofold. The first is to focus on providing a more meaningful membership experience to our existing members who are planning officials. This means seeking ways to more effectively reach out to these members to encourage engagement, participation and discussion with the larger planning community. It also means to employ strategies to better communicate the many resources and tools designed to assist decision-makers during the planning and entitlement process and develop programs that address 21st Century challenges influenced by local politics and community advocacy. The second area of focus will be to expand the membership among California planning officials. As it stands, planning officials make up less than 5% of the overall membership resulting in an uneven representation of the broader planning community. Such an imbalance prevents a more robust debate and innovative solutions to the policies and ideas that shape communities today throughout the state. An increased involvement by planning officials in APA will serve not only as a benefit to the general membership, but also provide a better synergy between those that draft planning policy and those who decide on it.

I hope you will continue to be involved and take advantage of the many resources at your fingertips so that the experience as a planning decision-maker can be further supported and enhanced.

Thank you.

Students

Cindy Ma, Student Representative

Greetings members! My name is Cindy Ma and I am your 2011-2012 Student Representative. During my time as your Student Representative, I tried my best to reflect the needs, concerns, and comments of my fellow planning colleagues. This section of the annual report will highlight what has been happening during my time as Student Representative with the APA CA chapter.

In the beginning of 2012 at the Board retreat, the Chapter set goals for the year; the following are the goals that were set for the Student Representative:

- Seek to understand what APA CA means to planning students
- Strengthen the relationship between planning universities and colleges throughout the state
- Strengthen the relationship between planning universities and colleges with APA CA

Although a year position is not a lot of time, I am happy to share the following accomplishments in achieving these goals:

Student Rep Survey:

During the spring of 2012, a Student Rep survey was sent to each university and college's APA student representatives asking several questions about their involvement with APA at their local section and the state level. Results from this survey indicated that while many student reps interacted frequently with their local sections, they did not at the state level. Additionally, student reps felt there could be better interaction and communication between universities and colleges and the state APA chapter as a whole.

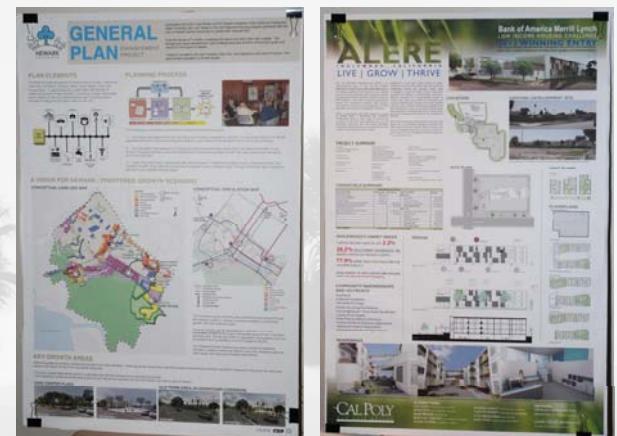

The information collected from this survey helped to confirm existing impressions about the relationship between APA students and the APA CA chapter and will be used in the formulation of new programs (to be discussed below) that will help achieve the set goals mentioned above.

Students

APA CA 2012 Rancho Mirage Conference Student Poster Display:

A number of planning students throughout the State displayed their work at the recent State conference in Ranch Mirage. This year, the display was coordinated between the Conference Committee and the APA CA Student Representative. In total 9 posters were chosen for the display, with 5 physically displayed during the event. The poster display showcased the current work of undergraduate and graduate students in planning and planning-related programs, covering topics ranging from transportation studies to affordable housing competitions to student owned mini-farms in a university setting. As hoped, this exhibit helped to foster new relationships between the planning students and planning professionals in attendance.

New APA Student Rep links program:

The new APA Student Rep links idea emerged from the realization that communication and interaction between universities and schools, and between students and the APA CA chapter can be improved. As aforementioned, this topic was mentioned in the survey administered earlier in the year.

Speaking to strengthening the relationship between planning universities and colleges and these entities with APA CA overall, this program introduces concepts such as monthly student rep calls/check-ins, a meeting/mixer at the annual state conference, more collaboration with local YPG (Young Planners Group), and more multi-local sub-section and universities and colleges partnering events.

As my term with the APA CA board concludes this year, these goals and ideas will be transferred to the 2013 to 2014 Student Representative: Carley Markovitz, a master's candidate from USC. She can be reached via email: cmarkovi@usc.edu.

Thank you APA CA chapter and members. It was a great pleasure to serve as your Student Representative for 2012 to 2013!

Chapter Historian

Steve Preston, FAICP (South) and Larry Mintier, FAICP (North)

APA California has a proud history. ARCHIVES UPDATE

In the summer of 2012, former long-time Chapter Historian Betty Croly's collection of archival materials was transmitted to California State University Northridge. The collection consisted of several boxes, some which were transferred to National APA for evaluation as part of National's Archives program. Several boxes of historical books and reports not suitable for the archive, which have been donated through Chapter member Vivian Kahn to the Berkeley Public Library and other local repositories. With the assistance of Chapter members Juan Borrelli, Brian Smith, Vivian Kahn, Janet Ruggiero, and George Osner, as well as Betty's family, the efforts to sort and store the materials was a great success.

Pending Chapter Historical Records Project to be undertaken are as follows:

- 1) Updating the databases created for the 60th anniversary in 2008;
- 2) Establishing a binder of biographies of many of the state's historically important planners; and
- 3) Documenting past Planning Landmark nominations.

2012 AWARDS AND HONORS

Under the direction of Larry Mintier, the Planning Landmarks and Planning Pioneers jury was convened. The Chapter recognized the California Coastal Commission and the Coastal Act (California Coastal Protection Program) for an award under the National Planning Landmarks program. The plan received a unanimous endorsement from the jury. The Coastal Protection Program has now been forwarded to National APA for the Planning Landmark Award.

The Chapter Historian Program is continuing to work on the following longer term goals:

- 1) Further strengthen the archives collection and our easy--reference collection of biographies and historical materials.
- 2) Strengthen our existing bonds with the Planners Emeritus Network (PEN).
- 3) Continue work on the Chapter history video, which has been delayed.
- 4) Arrange a visit to view the UC Berkeley archives where APA California's predecessor organization, the California Association of Planners, has records going back to the 1930s.

California Planning Foundation

Linda Tatum, AICP, President

CPF is a non-profit charitable corporation established to further the practice of planning in California. CPF achieves this goal by giving scholarships and awards to college students in financial need who have demonstrated academic excellence in planning programs throughout the State.

2012 was a year of continued success for the CPF Scholarship Fund as we increased the level of student scholarship awards, had another record breaking auction at the CCAPA Conference in Rancho Mirage, and conducted a successful professional development workshop in Tijuana. As we plan CPF's 2013 activities, we look forward to continued success in raising funds for student scholarships and providing economical, timely, and relevant professional development workshops for the practicing planning professional.

Student Scholarships

In 2012 CPF awarded 52 scholarships and APA memberships totaling more than $54,000 in the following categories:

Outstanding Student Award (4)	Diversity Award (1)	Section Scholarship Awards (19)
California Planning Roundtable (3)	Corporate/Named/Endowed (5)	Honorable Mentions (6)
Continuing Student Awards (9)	Graduating Student Merit Award (9)

The student scholarships and awards were presented on the opening day of the 2012 APA California Conference in Rancho Mirage at the Rancho Las Palmas Resort. The APA California Board of Directors joined the CPF Board of Directors and other students attending the Student Day sessions on Sunday, were on hand for this event.

CPF Frank Wein Scholarship Auction

The 2012 Frank Wein Scholarship Auction held at the 2012 APA California Conference in Rancho Mirage was a record breaking success! The auction generated more than $33,000 breaking last year's record of $31,000. All proceeds from the auction will be used to fund 2013 CPF Scholarships. This achievement would not have been possible without the generous support of APA California members, donors, volunteers, and Friends of CPF. Auction fundraising and fun is enhanced by the Section Challenge completion. Northern Section captured this year's plaque and bragging rights.

CPF Professional Development Workshops

CPF annually sponsors a professional development workshop. Recent workshops have been walking tours organized around the themes of sustainability and APA Great Cities/Neighborhoods. 2012 Workshops included tours of Tijuana on the topic of bi-national planning, and Cavallo Point/Historic Sausalito on the topics of sustainable design, local food, and health. CPF workshops are eligible for CM Credits.

Section Membership Activities

We continue our sponsorship of the monthly speaking events coordinated by the Valley Futures Forums in Modesto. We appreciate the efforts of Cindy van Empel, AICP, for her oversight and management of this Forum and the program and presentations by noted professionals in such fields as planning, transportation, engineering and architecture/urban design in providing a "dynamic conversation on development issues in the San Joaquin Valley."

On August 24-26, we held our 19th Sierra Retreat at Lake Sequoia, Camp YMCA, in the Sierra National Forest. The retreat provides planners, their families and fellow professionals an opportunity to relax and enjoy a beautiful mountain lake environment with fishing, boating, swimming and hiking while engaging in a professional development program with CM credits. Sequoia Lake is located 50 miles east of Fresno on Highway 180 at 5,000 feet just outside the entrance to Kings Canyon National Park. The lake covers 80 acres with a 2-mile trail circling the lake.

Professional development has been a centerpiece of the retreat since the beginning in 1991. This year's program, Ethics in Planning, comprised of a panel discussion moderated by David Fey, AICP, who has a broad background in planning ethics and is as entertaining as he is knowledgeable. The topics included the AICP Code of Ethics, applying the Code in Practice, public vs. private planning, and putting the AICP Code to work. The emphasis of the program was on how everyday ethics guide and develop professionalism in the practice of planning. The program was eligible for 2.5 CM credits.

We have been actively meeting and participating in various joint events and social functions with the members of the Central Chapter of the Association of Environmental Professionals (AEP). We are looking to continue and build on our relationship with the AEP as many of their members are also APA members.

Central Coast Section Highlights

The Central Coast Section serves San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura Counties and provides planning professionals, elected officials and community members with services, support and information to advance planning on the Central Coast of California and beyond. The Section has more than 400 members.

Training

Our 2012 training sessions began in March with a presentation, EMERGING CLIMATE CHANGE POLICIES UNDER SB375. The discussion was led by Mr. Bob Leiter, FAICP, who retired as Planning Director for SANDAG in 2009 and has since been providing assistance to SANDAG and other metropolitan areas as they develop their Sustainable Communities Strategy. Also in March, the Section completed our Professional Ethics session with Ms. Carol D. Barrett, FAICP in Santa Barbara and had nearly 50 attendees.

In April 2012 Central Coast APA presented a panel on how local communities are adjusting to the elimination of Redevelopment Agencies. Our May training focused on transportation session: WHAT DOES THE CURRENT FEDERAL TRANSPORTATION BILL MEAN FOR TRANSPORTATION, DEVELOPMENT, AND PLANNING IN VENTURA COUNTY? The presenter was Darren Kettle, Ventura County Transportation Commission. During the summer, we completed a second transportation related session with Public Transit in Ventura County--Who Needs It? The speaker, Cameron Yee, was a researcher of Central Coast Alliance United for a Sustainable Economy (CAUSE).

Mixers

In 2011, Central Coast launched its MiMBY effort, Movies in My Backyard, as an innovative way to engage professionals in urban issues and planning. In 2012, the heart of this program remains in the Ventura subsection where monthly film screenings occur, all related to planning, design, sustainability, and civic engagement. The events are free, and all are welcome.

Citizens Planning Academy

The Central Coast conducted its first ever Planning Academy in 2010 for Ventura County. For 2012, the Academy moved north to San Luis Obispo County and includes public and private planners and related practitioners as key speakers. The Academy will provide an engaging opportunity for SLO County citizens to learn about community planning, public involvement, governmental organization, and other related land use and environmental issues. The sessions will be held on the following dates: October 4, 11, 18, and 25 and November 1, 8, 15. The level of effort to make this type of intensive training series is significant. The Board hopes to move the planning academy to the Santa Barbara Subsection in 2013-14.

Inland Empire Section Highlights

The Inland Empire Section covers Riverside and San Bernardino counties and has over 300 members representing the public, private, and academic sectors. San Bernardino is the largest county in California and Riverside is one of the fastest growing counties in the state.

2012 National Planning Conference: April 14-17, 2012 the Los Angeles Section hosted the 2012 National Planning Conference for the first time since 1986! Nearly 5,000 attendees enjoyed days of sessions, mobile workshops, orientation tours, and networking events.

Wednesdays at the Mercado: The 2012 Wednesdays at the Mercado inaugural series highlighted the Planning Los Angeles book edited by David Sloane and published by APA. The panel in March featured Anastasia Loukaitou-Sideris and San Gennawey discussing Public and Open Space in Los Angeles including how to incorporate more open space in new development projects, the struggles with privatizing open space and the recent "Occupy LA" movement's use of open space. The panel in May featured Dr. Marlon Boarnet, Dr. Lisa Schweitzer and Amanda Berman discussing Infrastructure and Mobility in Los Angeles. The panel in June featured Dr. David Sloane, Ken Bernstein and Elizabeth Currid-Halkett discussing Economic Development in Los Angeles.

Planning for Public Health: May 24, 2012 Kicked off another inaugural series focused on facilitating discussions addressing the ways in which planners and designers are working to solve the public health challenges afflicting our communities. The panel featured Bill Roschen, head of the City of Los Angeles' Planning Commission, who discussed the development of a Public Health Element for LA's General Plan Framework. Jean Armbruster, director of the County Public Health Department's PLACE program, spoke about Project RENEW, and Susan Tae, Supervising Revisional Planner with the LA County Department of Regional Planning spoke about the County's Healthy Design Ordinance.

Joint Law/Ethics Training: September 22, 2012 – A joint Law/Ethics Course was held featuring an ethics session focused on public outreach by ethics guru, Carol Barrett, FAICP and a California Housing Element and CEQA Update by Diana Varat, Associate at Richards, Watson & Gershon (and APA LA Vice Director of Policy).

2012 APA LA Membership Survey: August/September – The LA Section conducted our first comprehensive online membership survey since 2006. Our membership has continued to grow over the past few years and has almost returned to our 2006 levels. The survey was intended to provide the LA Section Board with critical information that will influence when and where the board plans programs and what local services are provided and prioritized.

Northern Section Highlights

The Northern Section offers membership to city and regional planners and associated professionals that primarily live or work in the western Klamath and Pacific Coast Ranges regions of the state. The Section has over 1,500 members within their region, which includes the highly populated nine-county San Francisco Bay Area and extends approximately 500 miles from the Oregon border to south of Monterey Bay.

Section Membership Activities

New Website Launched: After over six months of planning, the Northern Section launched a completely redesigned website in May 2012. The website was truly a collaborative effort that involved all Board members. The effort was capably led by Ronny Kraft, AICP, Section Webmaster with the technical assistance of our web designer Devin Dombrowski. A major change was that the platform for the site was upgraded to a WordPress content management system. This will allow for more content and timely posting of information and announcements. Specific pages have been assigned to Board members to regularly update and training was provided by the webmaster. While we are proud of our initial effort, it is only the beginning and we expect the site to further evolve and improve. We are exploring strategies for attracting more traffic to the site. Visit <http://norcalapa.org> to explore our new website.

Northern News: The much lauded Northern Section's newsletter is published 10 times a year and is distributed electronically to a large email list and is posted on the Section's website <http://norcalapa.org/about/northern-news/>. The newsletter continues to grow in size and content with feature articles and reoccurring columns. This newsletter represents the efforts of many contributors and is overseen by our dedicated Newsletter Editor Naphtali Knox, FAICP and Co-Editor Erik Balsley, AICP. Recent past issues of the newsletter are also available on the Section's website. Juan Borrelli, AICP, Section Historian, has also spent considerable time scanning and creating PDF files of older issues of Northern News dating back to the late 1960s; these issues are accessible on the Section Archives web page. We have three ways of notifying members and readers that Northern News is online: Constant Contact email, LinkedIn groups, and our APA California Northern Facebook page. Since March, we have been sending "special" emails to announce the Northern News. These emails are separate from the standard eNews sent every two weeks. Both Constant Contact and LinkedIn direct potential readers to two platforms: The PDF, which is hosted on our Northern Section website, and the virtual magazine hosted by issuu.com. The Facebook page directs readers to the virtual magazine on issuu.com.

AICP Exam Preparation Workshops: Through the dedicated efforts of Dr. Don Bradley, AICP, Northern Section AICP Director, we continue to host our Spring and Fall series of AICP Exam Preparation workshops at San José State University. The passage rate for participants has consistently exceeded 90 percent and the majority of California planners that passed the latest exam in May 2012 were from the Northern Section. Many Northern Section planners have volunteered their time to review exam topics at these all-day Saturday workshops.

Brazil Trip: The Northern Section is unique in that it has an International Director position on its board to address international planning issues. One of its popular activities has been to organize a planning oriented tour to a foreign country every two years. Past trips have included Cuba, China and India. This year a group tour to the economically bustling country of Brazil was organized. Approximately 20 planners toured Brazil from August 17 to September 1. The group started off in São Paulo and maintained an informative blog to post pictures, record their observations and express their thoughts on planning practices in Brazil as they travelled from city to city. You can view their blog at: http://norcalapabrazil.blogspot.com/?utm_source=eNews+August+20%2C+2012&utm_campaign=eNews&utm_medium=email

Planner's Institute: Our joint event with the Planning Director's Association of Orange County was just held in October again at the Nixon Library. The event was sold out. The cost for more than 7 CM Credits was 95.00 and included breakfast and lunch. The day began with a look at "what great things are happening in our communities" with 32 of the 34 cities in our Section present, they shared projects they are proud of that represent the best of their community. Sessions included planning after redevelopment, creative economic development with examples from Anaheim, Aliso Viejo and Costa Mesa, ULI's RE-visioning Orange County was the keynote session talking about regional issues of housing, transportation and land use and a session on being esmart. Our audience included City Council members, Planning Commissioners, public and private sector practitioners as well as academic and students members. OCAPA sponsored 10 student registrations for this event.

Monthly Events: The Section hosts a monthly lunch program covering CM credited topics that are relevant to our members. We have teamed up throughout the last several months to cross promote or co-host events with AEP, PDAO, LAAPA, and San Diego APA to offer our members the broadest range of free and low cost CM credits possible. Over the last six months OCAPA has offered 16 CM credits locally and for free or low (less than 20.00 each) cost.

Fundraising/Golf Tournament: The Section co-hosted our annual golf tournament this year on August 9 at Pelican Hill golf course. Joining with ICC and PDAO, OCAPA raised more than 2,000.00 for student scholarships, specially our Bob Goldin Scholarship program. These scholarships will be awarded in the Spring.

Students: OCAPA attended the welcome event for the new students in the UCI Master program. We spoke to students about the benefits of APA, encouraged their membership, given that it is free, shared the opportunity for this year's class to attend our State conference locally, and listened to the interests and questions of this class.

APA California Conference 2014: We have finalized and received approval for the location (Disneyland Hotel) to host the 2014 conference. Our co-chairs will be presented for the review and approval of the Board and we have met with interested members to begin forming our LHC. We had over 40 people attend our kick-off event and several others that are interested in serving but could not make the meeting. We have finalized the contract with the location and are working on ideas for our opening event.

Section Membership Activities

Our goal is to provide Section members 8 – 12 programs annually available to the general membership. In addition, we provide other specialty programs through the Young Planners Group and Professional Development activities. In the fall, we created a Programs Committee to better coordinate the activities of the various functions. The highlight of our Programs is the six month Speaker Series, in collaboration with our planning and design partners which include AIA, ULI, USGBC, AEP, OPR, SACOG and the Sacramento Tree Foundation. This year's theme was RE3: ReThink, ReDesign, ReEnergize - Creating a Thriving Community. Our 2012 Speaker Series focuses on both old and new tools and ideas and how to use them to successfully meet current needs for fostering healthy, economically viable, equitable and livable communities. In year five of the Sacramento Valley APACA Section's award winning professional development series, we and our partners explore how we can recommit ourselves to our professions and our communities and help create a better world. These programs are held monthly from June through November and each session provides two AICP CM Credits.

PLAN Sac Valley Mentoring Program: The PLAN (Planning + Leadership + Advancement + Networking) Sac Valley mentoring program completed its first year. The 9-month program matched 9 planners starting their career with 9 experienced planners for one-on-one and group activities designed for personal and professional growth and advancement. The PLAN program offered one group activity per month focusing on topics like planning in the public sector vs. the private sector, the future of the planning profession, mentee tips for their profession toolkit, and "hot" planning topics. The program also included volunteer activities to give back to the community. The PLAN mentoring program received the APA CA Chapter 2012 Section Activity Award of Excellence.

Professional Development

AICP Exam Preparation: In February and September, the Section hosted informational sessions for members considering applying for and taking the AICP exam to become certified planners. We had a total of 10 attendees for the two sessions. The Section provides ongoing support to members preparing to take the AICP exam by providing or directing them to study materials, responding to questions regarding the AICP exam and application process and helping to organize study groups. Certification Maintenance: Provided opportunities for 29.25 CM credits to keep planners up to date on the latest trends, technologies, and best practices. Recognition of National Planning Month: On October 2nd, the City Council recognized National Planning Month – featuring remarks from a council member, City of Sacramento Planning Director (David Kwong), City Planning & Design Commission Chair (Phil Harvey), and APA Sac Valley Section Director (Tricia Stevens).

Planning Commissioners Training: The Section partnered with the Sacramento Area Council of Governments (SACOG) to offer Planning Commissioner Training sessions, including the March 31, 2012, CEQA training in Chico.

Website Redesign Committee: The website redesign committee consisting of Greg Konar, Nancy Graham, Alex Hempton, Eric Lardy, Asha Brier, Kim Bush, and Rene Yarmy guided the successful launch of our new website on April 5, 2012. Programming and design support was provided by Ty Smith of Digital Deluxe. The design met all of the committee's goals and objectives and provided an even richer set of features than originally anticipated.

Complete Streets Task Force: The San Diego Compete Streets Task Force (CSTF) was initiated jointly by SDAPA and WalkSanDiego to promote the implementation of Complete Streets by sharing best practices, encouraging dialogue, and recognizing innovative projects in the San Diego region. Task Force members include SDAPA members: Greg Konar (chair), Brooke Petersen, Asha Brier, and Dan Wery. Other members are from WalkSanDiego and local transportation consultants firms.

AICP Professional Development: After many years leading the AICP Exam Training programs, Stan Donn has passed the reigns to form SDAPA Newsletter Editor Asha Bleier. Asha has been assisting Stan and his committee for more than a year, and recently earned her own AICP this year.

SDAPA AICP Training Report - 2012: SDAPA has been offering AICP exam trainings since 2007. We offer a major training between February and April for those taking the May exam, and a Roundtable gathering in September for those interested in taking the exam in November. The Roundtable is intended to provide a recap of the May training and key information to help people focus their study efforts. Both events have people who have recently passed the exam share their insights, which greatly help participants with knowing what they may expect to see on the exam. The average number of participants has been 20-25 people for the May exam training. Approximately 11 people attended this year's training with most of the participants from San Diego and a couple coming down from Orange County/LA. In the past, up to 50% of the attendees were from the OC/LA area. At this time, the Orange County and LA APA sections do not offer exam prep trainings. Only Sacramento, Northern CA and San Diego sections offer trainings.

Programs & Workshops & Events: SDAPA conducted 2 Luncheons, 4 Workshops and 1 Tour (2012 Awards). A total of 24.5 AICP CM credits were offered for an average of only $10 per credit (including food). In addition, SDAPA partnered with our collaborating organizations (ULI, C3, Walk San Diego, AEP and ITE) to provide another 15.25 CM credits. Several of SDAPA's past tours were resurrected for the 2012 New Partners for Smart Growth Conference in San Diego. Two of the tours each provided 3.5 CM credits. The 47 locally provided CM credits included 7.5 Law and 1.5 Ethics credits, exceeding our goal to provide enough programming credits annually to meet the bi-annual AICP requirements.

Newsletter: The SDAPA Newsletter & Planning Journal has been incorporated as an integral element of the website as a more interactive/online feature.
